By default, DirectAdmin doesn't require being updated manually. However, in some cases where the DirectAdmin key has changed, you'll need to manually update the key. To do this, please follow the step-by-step directions outlined below:

- Login to your DirectAdmin VPS/Dedicated server via SSH
- Next, type the following command within Linux:

```
/etc/init.d/directadmin stop && /usr/local/directadmin/scripts/getLicense.sh 24580 <LICENSE-ID> &&
/etc/init.d/directadmin start
```

- Please update the items in BOLD to their correct values

Upon having run the above-mentioned code, your DirectAdmin control panel will start using the new license key rather than the previous one.
