How would I access a Fantastico script while the domain isn't resolving?

Posted: LicenseCube Support [support@licensecube.com]
Online URL:

Accessing your Fantastico installed script generally requires a domain name. However, if you are trying to start working on your script prior to your DNS fully propagating you may use the outlined method below. Please follow the step-by-step directions outlined below:

- Open your browser and type the following address:

http://your-ip-address-here/~cPanel-username/

- Adjust the items outlined in BOLD above to their correct values
- Next, append the aforementioned URL with the installation folder of your script

If you have any further questions pertaining to your Fantastico license, please feel free to get in contact with the LicenseCube support team for additional assistance.