The activation process, for any license within the LicenseCube family, takes between ten (10) seconds and thirty (30) seconds. However, on average a ClientExec license is activated within fifteen (15) seconds. So upon completing your order, your inbox will contain the ClientExec license activation email along with installation instructions.

Should you have any further questions pertaining to your ClientExec license, please feel free to get in contact with the LicenseCube support team for additional assistance.
